What can I do with an HRM degree?

Areas of Human Resources

- Compensation & Benefits
- Employee & Labor Relations
- Selection & Placement
- Retention
- Employment & Recruiting
- Health, Safety & Security
- Human Resources Information Systems (HRIS)
- Training, Career & Organizational Development

Types of Jobs to Expect

- Performance Evaluation
- HR Manager/Director
- Labor Relations Manager
- Comp & Benefits Specialist
- HR Assistant, Generalist or Specialist
- VP of Human Resources
- Employee & Organizational Development

Average Salaries in the State of Tennessee

- Recruiter, HR Assistant, Entry-level training: $34,000-$38,000
- HR Generalist, HR Specialist: $41,000-$57,000
- Training Coordinator, HR Manager/Director,
- Comp/Benefits Specialist: $60,000 +
- Vice President of Human Resources: $90,000 +

General Information

- Having an MBA, MS or PHR qualifies one for higher salaries and positions.
- Obtain internships in areas of interest such as HR, training, or OD.
- Join professional associations such as *AHRD, ASTD, SHRM, AMA, AOM, and TVHRA.
- Join student organization, UT-SHRM, to network with HR managers at meetings.